YOU asked for it!

on the CARIBBEAN PRINCESS !

SPECIAL SAILING – once in a lifetime adventure -so much to see and enjoy!

Cruise to all those places you have always wanted to go! A WOW! No packing/unpacking! Iceland is one of the most popular destinations in the world currently. Might even spot Polar Bears! Northern lights are rare due to the sunlight hours, but not totally impossible to see some days. Space will not last! Book now! Dare you pronounce some of these ports!!

QAQORTOQ, Greenland- If you're a seasoned traveler with a taste for destinations untrammled by modern tourism, Qaqortoq is the ultimate port of call. Qaqortoq means "White Palace" in Greenlandic, and this small town of about 3,400 is the cultural and commercial center of Southern Greenland NANORTALIK, Greenland- means "place of bears" in Greenlandic. Summer visitors to this extraordinary - and extraordinarily isolated – port may spot polar bears on the offshore flow ice. Those offshore waters also teem with seals and Minke, humpback and fin whales. Ashore, brightly painted wooden houses cluster to a rocky peninsula in the harbor. Dramatic boulders dot the landscape, and mountains surround the port.

REYKJAVIK, Iceland - a land of volcanoes and glaciers, lava fields and green pastures, boiling thermal springs and ice-cold rivers teeming with salmon. This unspoiled demi-paradise is also home to a very old and sophisticated culture. Iceland is an international center of commerce and home to one of the most technologically sophisticated societies in the world. It is the gateway to Iceland's natural wonders, which range from ice fields to thermal pools. The famous BLUE LAGOON is here!

ISAFJODUR, Iceland -The West Fjords are Iceland's least populated region, with 9,600 inhabitants in the area. Some of Iceland's oldest and best-preserved buildings, dating from the 18th century, are located in Ísafjördur. The town is still predominantly a fishing center. A vigorous and varied cultural and artistic scene flourishes in the town as well. Mountains surround Ísafjördur on the three sides and the sea on the other.

AKUREYRI, Iceland - is your gateway to the famous "Land of Fire and Ice" - Iceland's dramatic landscape of volcanic craters, extinct lava lakes and majestic waterfalls. Visitors to Akureyri have a hard time grasping the fact that the town lies just below the Arctic Circle. The climate here is temperate: flower boxes fill the windows of houses, and trees line the neat, well-tended avenues. Thanks to that mild climate, Akureyri's Botanical Gardens provide a home for over 2,000 species of flora from around the world - all surviving without greenhouses.

CORNWALL, England - England's southwest corner is steeped in legend and history. Tintagel Castle in Cornwall is the traditional birthplace of King Arthur. Falmouth, which boasts a superb deep-water harbour - the third-largest in the world - shares the Cornish coast's colorful history of shipwrecks, smuggling, and privateering. Cornwall is scenic England at its best, with superb seascapes, picturesque harbours, and countryside of green fields and hedgerows, quaint villages, and low-slung granite farmhouses.

CORK, Ireland - is your gateway to romantic Ireland. Stroll down narrow country lanes or see the Lakes of Killarney. The scenery is spectacular. You may scale the narrow passages of Blarney Castle to kiss the Blarney Stone. Or, explore the Home of Waterford Crystal or a Blarney Woolen Mill for clothing. The region around Cork is also home to one of the densest concentrations of prehistoric monuments in Western Europe. This is a land where fable and fact blend to become folklore.
